

How To Be a Good Team Leader: 7 Qualities

1

Continuous Learning

- Develop skills in time management, decision-making, mentoring, and conflict resolution
- Improve technical expertise through courses and experience sharing

2

Taking Responsibility

- A leader is accountable for both the team's successes and mistakes
- Analyze problems, learn from failures, and refine processes

3

Leading by Example

- Follow discipline, rules, and work standards yourself
- Demonstrating the right behavior motivates the team

4

Supporting the Team

- Help organize work and remove obstacles
- Utilize team members' strengths to boost efficiency

5

Smart Task Delegation

- Assign tasks based on employees' competencies
- Use project management tools like Bordio for task tracking

6

Honesty and Tact

- Provide open yet respectful feedback
- Be flexible when handling complex situations

7

Active Listening

- Gather team ideas and suggestions before making decisions
- Clearly explain decisions to maintain trust